

Grape-e-Power™

High Flavonoid, High ORAC

A grape concentrate is ideal for better health. That's what researchers are proving, because grapes contain a wide range of beneficial compounds, including trace minerals and polyphenols. In the Mediterranean, villagers rely not on wine for health benefits, but instead they use a unique grape concentrate. They have produced it for hundreds of years and use it both as a sweetener and health tonic.

Another first by North American Herb & Spice, Grape-e-Power is produced from whole, mountain-grown red and green grapes, including the vine and seed. North American Herb & Spice contracts with local villagers to use only pure mountain-grown grapes, grown without chemicals and pesticides. The local villagers handpick these wild-mountain grapes, and then the grapes are fermented gently and simmered: vine, seed, skin, and all. The residue is skimmed off, and what remains is the rich tonic. This tonic is an excellent source of potassium and chromium and also contains healthy amounts of calcium, magnesium, and phosphorus, plus naturally occurring flavonoids. Grape-e-Power is highly digestible and rich in nutrients. In fact, it is one of the easiest to digest of all sweeteners.

The grapes are sun-nourished in the lovely Mediterranean air until ripe and serve as the raw material for Grape-e-Power. While the wine industry removes the skin, with Grape-e-Power the skin provides valuable nutrients extracted into the final product. This is a true whole grape syrup.

How to Use the Grape-e-Power

- Take one tablespoon daily by itself.
- Add to shakes and smoothies as a natural sweetener.
- Ideal for flavoring or enriching whole milk.
