

Wild & Raw
Turmeric
Power-Plus™

Supports a healthy inflammation response*

Whole Food, Wild Turmeric Extract

Turmeric Power-Plus is the only truly wild plus raw turmeric extract available. It is highly potent, because it is made exclusively from the wild-growing spice thriving without farming or cultivation. Because it is wild, it is free of all pesticides and herbicides.

Turmeric Power-Plus is unique, because of the method of processing. Supercritical CO₂ extraction is used, which means it is rich in all the naturally occurring compounds, including turmeric essential oils known as turmerones, along with terpenes, waxes, and sterols. It also means that these components are in a raw state which makes this extract exceptionally powerful. The turmerones, terpenes, waxes, and sterols are lost in the standard turmeric supplements. It also has a high density of turmeric polysaccharides, which have novel, health-giving properties for supporting healthy immunity.*

A second extraction utilizes certified organic alcohol, which concentrates the pigments: the curcuminoids, including curcumin. Turmeric Power-Plus is the only turmeric supplement that uses certified organic alcohol (no residual alcohol in end-product). All others use the commercial grade, which may be tainted with GMOs. Since CO₂ extraction is used, all the enzymes are intact, as are the highly active biological molecules, the turmerones, which support cellular function.* Other purveyors are not so forthcoming about their extraction processes. Thus, with Turmeric Power-Plus, there is full and complete transparency, because it is the only turmeric extract free of all contaminants and GMOs.

It is also unique, because it contains synergizing spice oils, wild oils of oregano and rosemary, which dramatically increase its potency. Organic-source ginger oleoresin is also added. Along with turmeric, all such spice oils support a healthy inflammatory response.* Turmeric and ginger also support a healthy digestive response, while turmeric extract is well published for supporting ideal skin health.* Rosemary and turmeric are also well established for supporting a healthy neurological response, while also supporting the natural inflammatory response.*

It is optimal for another reason, which is the forms of delivery. Mycellized sublingual drops offer quick action through immediate absorption, while also being usable topically. It is also available as 500 mg gencaps in an oil phase, which aids in utilization. Compare this to pressed pills and dried powder isolates, which suffer from poor absorption and utilization. So, choose Turmeric Power-Plus as the most potent and well absorbed turmeric concentrate available, powerful beyond comprehension, as would be expected from the leader in natural supplement therapy, North American Herb & Spice.
